Assignments:
You are to select 3 of the 8 topics and write a 4-6 page paper based on the readings. Your paper should be divided into 3 parts: part 1. Introduction to the topic; part 2. A brief analysis of each of the readings, stating the author's thesis, methodology, sources, and supposed contribution to the literature; give your assessment as to what you see as the strengths and weakness of the piece; part 3. Write a synthesis in which you bring the readings together highlighting points on convergence and divergence. In regard the last point, discuss what seem to be the bases of divergence between authors: are they methodological, theoretical or evidentiary? Papers are due on the Monday before the seminar on the topics you have chosen.

Assessment:
1. Seminar participation: 40%
2. Writing assignments: 60% (20% per assignment)
