History 7C: Race and Ethnicity in the U.S.
Spring 2008
Professor David G. Gutiérrez

OFFICE HOURS: M, 2-4 pm; and by appt.

History 7C is part of a three-quarter course sequence exploring the history of "race" and ethnicity in American history. This course focuses primarily on the history of ethnic Mexicans in the U.S. since 1848. The class will also explore more generally issues of ethnogenesis, the intersections of class, gender, and cultural conflict and exchange, the significance of mass migration from Mexico and other regions of Latin America, transnationalism, and globalization. The course will also address the broad implications of the emergence of an increasingly multi-ethnic, multilingual society—particularly in the state of California.

Required Reading (Available at Groundwork Books)

Class Requirements/Student Evaluation

This is primarily a lecture and discussion course, and students expecting to do well should complete assigned readings and attend lectures and discussion sections. Attendance and participation in discussion sections is mandatory and will count for 30% of your grade. In addition to this requirement, students will complete an (open-book/open-note) take-home midterm examination (distributed in class, Wednesday April 25, and due in class, Wednesday, May 3). The midterm, an essay of 8-10 typewritten or computer-generated double-spaced pages, will count for 30% of your grade. Students are also required to complete a take-home final examination. The final exam (format to be determined later), will count the remaining 40% of your grade. Please note: LATE EXAMS WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED.
